

Does Chol Theatre accept scripts or pitches?

Chol Theatre values work in partnership with new and established artists, organisations and community groups and we're always willing to hear from people interested in collaborative projects. While we do not generally accept unsolicited scripts, we do from time to time commission writers for specific projects. Please feel free to contact us to discuss any future collaborations.